Identifying the Root and Key Issues

Surface-Level Issue

Root-Level Causes

Gen Z find banking challenging, unengaging, and inaccessible.

How can Scotiabank bridge the gap between traditional banking and Gen Z's expectations by leveraging digital innovation, financial education, and trust-building strategies to transform a traditionally unengaging system into one that inspires confidence and retention?

TOOLS
FOR YOU

Part One

Increasing Gen Z's likelihood to make their first investment with Scotiabank.

"A quarter of Gen Z (26%) and Millennial (27%) Canadians have extra money to invest (Scotiabank, 2025)."

"Gen Z were the most likely (45%) to be the victim of a financial fraud attempt, compared to 34% of millennials and 26% of gen X (Investment Executive, 2025)."

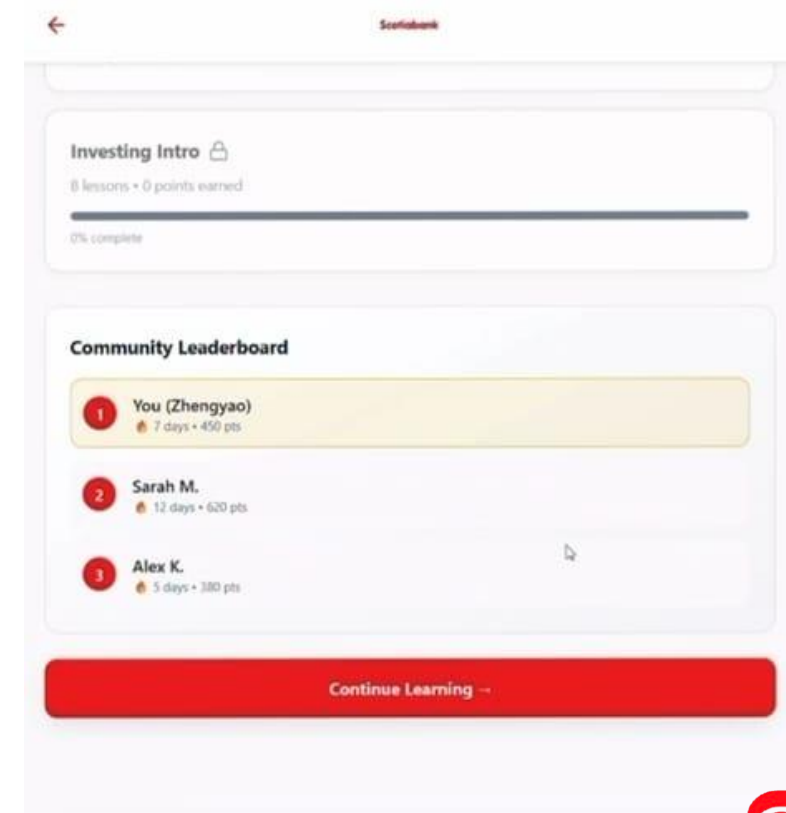

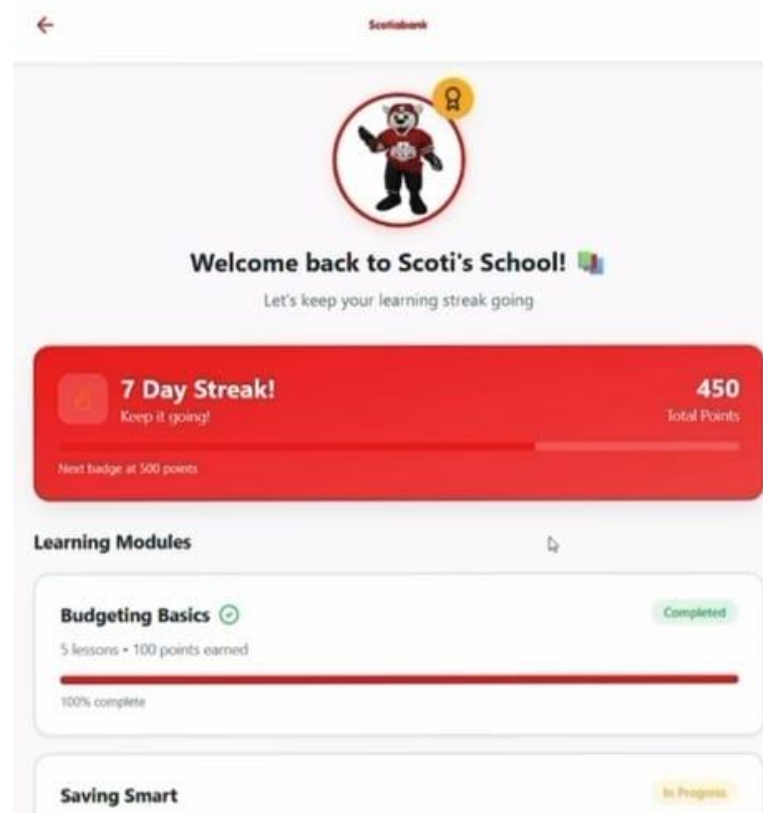

2

SCOTI'S SCHOOL

Part Two

Gamified experiences guide Gen Z toward Scotiabank products by linking rewards (Scene+ points) and challenges to relevant financial tools and services.

"Gamified experiences have been shown to increase engagement by 60%" (Terra Nova Security, 2024)

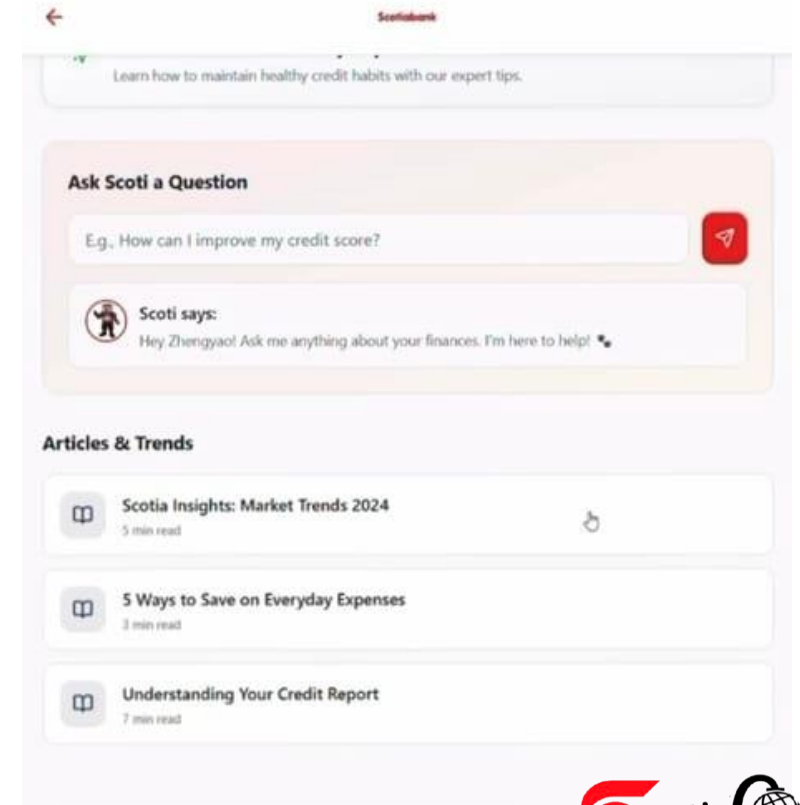

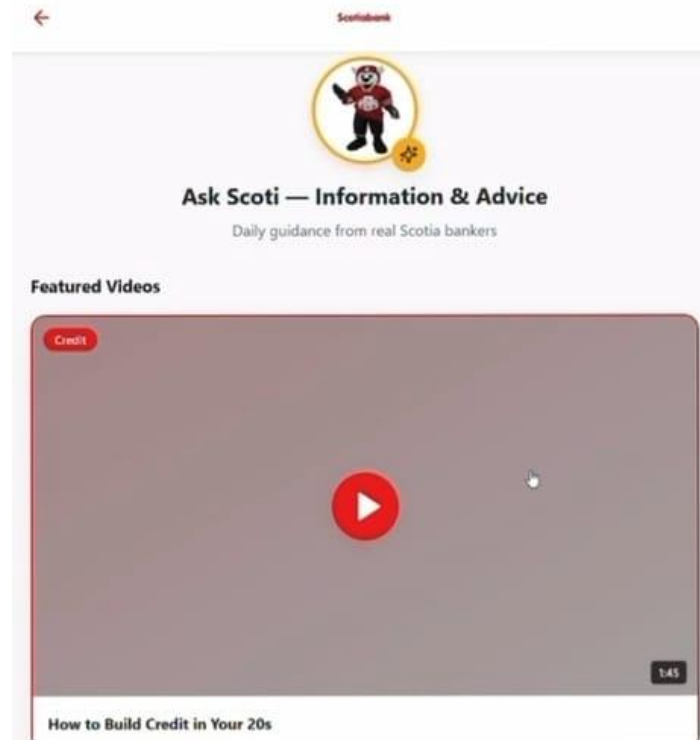

3

ASK SCOTI

Part Three

Enhance Scotia's existing predictive AI (Smart Money Advice+) into a personalized directory (student housing, debt) that guides users to relevant, well-informed resources and helps them book their first free appointment with an advisor.

"A simple conversation can get your financial plan on track." (Scotiabank)
